To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to take this opportunity to whole-heartedly and without reservation, recommend Pieterjan Bartels. I have had the pleasure of working with him for the past several months. Pieterjan has shown himself to have an extremely hard work ethic, he is very intelligent, and has an uncanny ability to be a natural leader. He anticipates issues and works to address them before they become a problem. He also has an excellent sense of humour and is a pleasure to be around.

I firmly believe that with his educational background combined with his common sense and personality that he will be a huge asset to the lucky organization that is able to acquire his services.

Sincerely,
